Manifest Destiny

Manifest Destiny is a phrase that expressed the belief that the United States had a divinely inspired mission to expand, to progress, and to spread its form of democracy and freedom. Originally a political catch phrase of the nineteenth century, Manifest Destiny eventually became a standard historical term, often used as a synonym for the territorial expansion of the United States across North America towards the Pacific Ocean.

What is Manifest Destiny

- U.S. has destiny that we must make
- "to expand to the Pacific Ocean and into Mexican territory" (The Americans)

TRAIL OF TEARS

Trail of Tears: The Cherokees

Introduction: You are a member of the Cherokee nation. You were born in Georgia and your family had assimilated to Western culture. You have witnessed the struggle of your people to keep your ancestral lands. Even the Supreme Court decision in your favor was not enough to fend off American desires. Now, you and your family are forced to move to a distant land set aside for Native Americans.

Task: Enter the web address(s) above each journal entry. Read through the information on the website to become familiar with its contents. After absorbing what you read, respond to the journal prompt. An illustration must be included with each entry. You may start each entry with "Dear Diary". Be detailed in your descriptions in your journal entries and be creative!

Prompt: Write a journal entry about what life was like as a Cherokee prior to Indian removal. What did your family do? As a group how did your tribe conform to European culture?

Dear Diary, Growing up in my family has been great, that is, up until now. We have been farmers and hunters for generations, but we do so a bit differently now. We have accepted a more traditional European way of life. It's not like the old ways, but we keep our land.

Prompt: Explain what your tribe received according to the Treaty of New Echota. How did your people feel? What were the consequences?
